TO LEAVE THE COAST

Chinese Merchants Become Alarmed

AT THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK

And Decide to Close Their Stores and Take Their Capital Back to China.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 21.—The Morning Call has had interviews with a number of Chinese merchants in this city, including the secretary of the Six Companies, and they report that a financial crash is imminent in the Chinese quarter here. They say that the cause which will result in the failure or retirement from business of a large number of Chinese firms is the exclusion law, with the expected deportation of those Chinese who fail to register.

The secretary of the Six Companies says that it is likely that when the Chinese new year arrives in February next the Six Companies will disband, and fully one-half of the Chinese merchants of this city go out of business. It is presumed from these statements that large numbers of the wealthiest Chinese here will soon leave the country and return home.

One of the wealthy Chinese merchants said that the firms in China which had been backing the large Chinese houses here had become alarmed by the anti-Chinese legislation in this county and had concluded to withdraw their capital invested here.

Some of the merchants speaking of the decrease of the Chinese population on this coast said that in the past year it had decreased one-third, that not a steamer had sailed from this port for China for months past that had not taken from 300 to 500 Chinese, and an average of less than fifty were coming here on steamers.

Heavy Pension Increase.

WASHINGTON, November 21. — More than the usual interest attaches to the forthcoming annual report of the commissioners of pensions. A statement has been made that the amount required or pensions the next fiscal year nearly reach the enormous sum of $200,000,000 The work of compiling figures, however, has sufficiently advanced to show that this estimate is in excess of the actual requirements, and it is now thought that congress will be asked to make an appropriation of about $180,000,000 for the coming fiscal year, about $18,000,000 of which is in anticipation of an increase to that amount over the actual expenditures of last year. It is the judgment of General Raum that while this amount will likely be increased the next year or two yet he feels confident that the maximum limit is nearly reached.

Expects the Worse.

WASHINGTON, November 21.—Hon. Fred Douglas has received so many inquiries since the election from members of the colored race who are anxious to learn his views as to the probable effect of the Democratic accession to power, that he has put an answer in the form of a printed circular. In this circular he expresses the opinion that those who apprehend a violent change for the worse, both in the general condition of the country and that of the colored people north and south, will find themselves agreeably surprised by the little difference which the change of administration will make. There will, he thinks, be made by the new administration no disastrous assault upon the enterprises or industries on the welfare of the country.

A Big Three.

TOPEKA, November 21.—The prospect of a Democrat in the speaker's chair of the Kansas legislature is not improbable. There will be three Democrats in the body and they will hold the balance of power. It is semi-officially announced that they will open headquarters in a day or two and make a race for the speakership. A dicker with the Republican forces is reported, by the terms of which Joseph Roonthal of Haskell county proposes to help them organize the house. This would mean a Republican successor to Senator Perkins.

His Name Was Jordan.

LOS ANGELES, November 21.—The mysterious individual who suicided in a Spring street lodging house Sunday afternoon, leaving a lengthy document confessing to having married thirteen women and claiming to have committed many crimes, has been identified as the man who arrived at Pomona on Friday last, claiming to hail from Bryan, Tex., and giving the name of J. S. Jordan. He attempted to swindle a man out of $500, but failed, when he suddenly left the city. After the inquest today the body was turned over to the Medical college.

To the Bottom.

SEATTLE, November 21.—On Friday evening a party consisting of Prof. Gainard, his wife and son, aged 19, and Miss Thompson, aged 22, all musicians, started from Everett for Marysville to play at an Odd Fellows' ball. They went in a yacht with Henry Leary, a sailor. Sunday morning the steamer Mabel picked up the capsized boat, and a reed organ afterwards drifted ashore. Nothing has been seen or heard of the party since.

Among Old Friends.

LINCOLN, Neb., November 21.—A complimentary banquet was tendered tonight to Patrick Egan, minister to Chili, who has been visiting a few days in the city the guest of ex-President Fitzgerald of the Irish National League of America. About 300 guests were present.

Powderly Again.

ST. LOUIS, November 21.—T. V. Powderly was today re-elected general master workman of the Knight of Labor.

Wheelmen Matched.

MILWAUKEE, November 21.—Zimmerman and Sanger, bicyclists, are matched to ride for $10,000. The details have not yet been arranged.

Arrested for Forgery.

City Marshal Morgan last night arrested a man by the name of W. J. Dent, who is wanted in San Francisco on a charge of forgery. Dent arrived in Fresno Sunday night, and Mr. Morgan received a telegram last night requesting that the arrest be made.

Cluster Raisins Scarce.

Fine cluster raisins are scarce, and packers are paying 10 cents per pound in the sweatbox for them. They are retailing for 25 cents per pound. Like everything else that is choice there is money in first class raisins.

THE ATHLETIC CLUB.

Interesting Program for Next Thursday Night.

There was to have been a meeting of Fresno County Athletic club last night but only two of the members appeared and it had to be postponed. Professor Christol was very much disappointed, as he hoped the final steps of putting the club on a permanent basis would be taken. He is anxious that the matter be settled either for or against as soon as possible and therefore asks that the club meet at the Y.M.C.A. hall on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

On Thursday evening at the Iroquois hall an exhibition in sparring, wrestling and fencing will be given for the benefit of the club. Besides this there will be a special feature. Professor Christol has accepted the challenge of Raoul Montpensive to a fencing match for $50 a side and has deposited his money with J. C. Nourse, treasurer of the club. The match will be for twenty points.

Christol will be aided in the entertainment by Tom Connors, ex-champion middle weight wrestler of this coast. Besides this Professor Christol offers $25 to the man who can stand up to him in a wrestling match for fifteen minutes, Græco-Roman style to govern. The athletic exhibition will be a high class one and will attract a large crowd.

Those Furniture Bids.

Supervisor White says it was a mistake that he and Supervisor Butler were in favor of accepting the higher bid for furnishing the court house. The bid they favored was in fact the lower. Those who bid were the G. W. Fuller company of San Francisco and the W. W. Webber company of Chicago. The former had one class of goods and bid $13,000. The latter company bid on three class of goods, the highest being $21,000 and the lowest $7400, the latter one being the one consider by the supervisors. Mr. White says he and Mr. Butler thought the bid of the Webber company the most reasonale and therefore spoke in its favor. Supervisors Myer and Hanke favored the Fuller company's bid, believing the furniture superior, which White and Butler did not admit.

THE PLAY.

HOW JULIA MARLOWE APPEARED IN "TWELFTH NIGHT."

Fresno's Upper Ten at the Barton Last Night—A Good Performance.

There is much in kindly invitation, and a fair face calls a fair house. The face and form of Julia Marlowe that have invited our approving glances on the bill boards this week past, proved not the false witchery of the wily advertiser; for the chaste and beautiful, they but poorly portrayed the living, breathing woman who trod the stage last evening. The play "Twelfth Night" is slow in developing: slow for the average American, and is paved with bon-mots slyly hidden in cunning labyrinths of old English.

Julia Marlowe as Viola in her character of the Duke's Page, is a creature so divinely natural and of a nature so loftily beautiful as to carry your sympathies and smiles through the trials and joys of her short career.

She is youth and woman so bewitchingly blended as to rack your spirit in her double cast.

Modesty asserts itself in every action, and the garb of page elicits no questionable remark, nor does it make her appear less maidenly than her age and true position would merit. She a rich voice, not loud, but full and vibrating, and her speech is truly natural, and her gestures—well, she simply has none, nor any other of the stagey attributes of the modern ranter. Neither does she stride. Her walk is like the motion of a flower swayed in the breeze. One could imagine a realism of the old time tale where the good fairy caused the righteous maiden to drop from her lips at each word uttered by her, pearls, rubies and precious gems.

Malvolio, Robert Taber was a fair representative of Shakespeare's idea. In fact he alone of the male cast, save it be the Fool, Edmund Lawrence, did any great credit to the cast.

Kittie Wilson as Maria laughed and tripped her fair little self into the hearts of the audience. Such beautiful teeth should be worn only with smiles. She is a handsome little lady and very charming.

The house was a brilliant one, many of Fresno's best being out in gala attire, and the boxes were radiant with beauty.

Mrs. Barton, serenely sweet, looks more the sister than the mother of her enterprising son. They occupied their own box.

Mrs. Muller and sisters, including the new bride, occupied their favorite loge, and were dressed in their usually elegant style; good American style, and becoming.

The bride, Mrs. Newhouse, looked more radiant than usual in an evening robe of red, with white lace trimmings spangled in gold. She bears her new honors with quiet dignity, so does the groom.

Colonel Marceau and friends occupied their boxes.

Mrs. Marceau in a robe of Felix's composition was all ablaze with jewels, but there was none of that Parisian display, we were prepared for, save in the brilliant elegance of her toilet.

She knows how to dress and does it, and it is a pleasure to attend a fine performance and see the house brilliant with lovely women in suitable evening costume.

Mrs. Dr. Deardorff looked handsomer than usual in an evening gown of light green, and hair dressed without a hat.

Mrs. Crichton's sister occupied the same loge with Mrs. Deardorff and wore her hair a trifle less voluminous. She is a very pretty girl and good to look at.

All the leading people of Fresno were out, but the theater seemed a trifle unfamiliar, as though things had been changed around.

Mrs. Ockenden followed the beautiful Miss Marlowe in rapt attention. She seemed delighted.

Fresno seems to be waking up to the appreciation of good things. A good sign truly.

TREMENDOUS SLIDES

The Great Downpour in the North

CAUSES MANY LAND SLIDES

Difficulty Experienced by the Union Pacific in Moving its Trains.

PORTLAND, November 21.—Not since the winter of 1880 have the railroads of the northwest experienced so much difficulty on account of washouts and land slides. There is no cessation of slides at the Cascades, on the Union Pacific, earth, boulders and trees being swept down the canyon on to the track faster than the whole force of employed men can remove them. It has been decided to build a track around the obstruction, and General Superintendent Baxter left this afternoon for the scene of operations to oversee the work. Stages have been on for the transfer of passengers and mails and boats are carrying all the freight, except wheat, which is accumulating rapidly about the slides.

CRAZY MANSFIELD.

Six Months for Tearing a Policeman's Whiskers.

S. C. Mansfield, who recently served a term of sixty days in the county jail for vagrancy, caused a disturbance last Sunday evening in Chinatown and Policeman Smith attempted to arrest him.

Mansfield, who appears to be a retired pugilist, resisted arrest, being egged on by several hilarious spectators. In the tussle pulled a handful of whiskers off the policeman's cheek, and it was not until assistance arrived that he could be captured.

The prisoner is an old man, a wreck from drink, and when under the influence of liquor becomes dangerously insane. He is known as "Crazy Mansfield."

Recorder Laning found him guilty of vagrancy and sentenced him to six months' imprisonment.

Thomas Sadler and an unknown man named in the complaint as John Doe were complained against by Policeman Smith for resisting an officer. He says that they are the persons who incited Mansfield to assault him. Warrants were issued for their arrest.

KANGAROO MALLOY

Arrested a Second Time for Battery in Jail.

Pat Malloy, a prisoner in the county jail, was arrested several days ago on a charge of battery proferred by another prisoner.

Malloy is sheriff or judge of an institution in the jail known as the kangaroo court, whose self constituted duty appears to be to search prisoners for loose change and rob them of it, the proceeds going into the tobacco and refreshment fund.

Yesterday Malloy was again arrested on a similar charge on complaint of a prisoner named Dominick Arczynski.

Battery is none the less a crime because committed in a jail.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.

A Man From Hanford Killed by a Boy.

A telegram was received at the sheriff's office last evening announcing that a man had been murdered at Mendota. In answer to a telegram sent from here for further particulars a reply was received to the effect that a man and a boy had gone hunting near Mendota yesterday and that the boy had accidentally shot the man.

It was subsequently learned that the man resided near Hanford and the boy at Sangar, and that they were relatives.

Undertaker Stevens went after the body.

ST. ANDREWS' SOCIETY.

Annual Election of Officers Last Saturday Night.

The St. Andrews' society held a meeting in the Barton Opera house building last Saturday night. The following named officers were elected.

C. B. Anton, president; Hector Burness, first vice president; Adam Baird, secretary; Wighman Liddell, treasurer; George Forsythe, sentinel.

The society will give a social on December 2d.

"Skipped."

"It is better to laugh than be sighing," says the old song, and that such is the opinion entertained by the generality of mankind the audiences attracted by that most laughable of comedies, "Skipped by the Light of the Moon," would seem to abundantly prove. "Skipped" will be seen at the opera house tonight. The fun commences when the curtain rises and continues until it falls upon the last act, and the interest of the audience is never allowed to cease or even to flag. The play promises to be better this season than ever. Fowler and Warmington have got together a fine company. With such artists as George A. Booker, Budd Ross, Charles Hagan, E. S. Tarr, Lida Wells, Lizzie Ingles and Estella Clinton, the piece could hardly help going well and a splendid performance may be anticipated.

The Gift Raisins.

The raisins donated to the Ladies World's Fair association of this county for free distribution at Chicago will be neatly packed in half pound boxes. Printed slips containing the names and residences of the donors will be placed in the boxes but these slips must be furnished by the donors, who are the recipients of the benefits of the advertising which they will thereby receive.

The Swedish Moody.

At 7.45 this evening the Swedish Moody, Rev. F. M. Johnson of Illinois, will preach in the Masonic hall opposite the Hughes hotel. As he speaks but one evening it is requested that everyone who can will attend.

FRESNO streets and alleys need another cholera scare.

IF the McKinley law depresses industry and injures business, as the Democracy has been declaring all along, it ought to be repealed as quickly as possible.

THE suggestions comes a little late, perhaps, but it may as well be set down in imperishable print that a man with a good hotel style has a pretty good gait when it comes to running for congress.

WAYNE MACVEAGH is suggested as Egan's successor for the Chilean consulship. The people who are making this suggestion seem to forget that Chili has apologized for misconduct, and is in all justice entitled to fair treatment.

DEMOCRATS have been calamity howlers without cause or reason. Their example is one which true Republicans ought to be careful to avoid. It is sound political philosophy to accept defeat without premonitions of impending disaster to the country. Let the results tell the story.

THE readers of advertisements in the newspapers of the day will frequently see this cheerful announcement: "That full feeling after eating can be relieved by chewing — —." This is doubtless a splendid discovery, but the man for whom laurel wreaths and riches are waiting is the one who will invent something which will relieve that full feeling after drinking.

INTELLIGENCE of new cases of cholera in Canada and of its increased virulence in Russia emphasizes the wisdom of the United States treasury department in strictly enforcing the President's proclamation as to the detention of immigrants. It would indeed be a calamity to have cholera creep in at last after our happy preservation thus far from its ravages. No relaxation of vigilance should occur till all danger of the dread disease has vanished.

THE free public library is finally about to reach the materializing point, and people who are anxious to give this boon to the public a "boost" in the right direction will, in the near future, be given the opportunity. A splendid dramatic and musical entertainment is in process of preparation, the proceeds from which will be devoted to furnishing and making comfortable and attractive the library room. The appropriation for the library purposes, it is hoped by this means, can all be used for the purchase of books, in which event a very good showing can be made from the start, and the public library will be a source of gratification and pride to every citizen who feels an interest in the intellectual advancement of the community. The entertainment should be liberally patronized.

AN extraordinary criminal paid the legal penalty for his crimes in England recently. Thomas Neill-Cream was probably not of sound mind, as it is impossible to imagine any rational motive for his acts. He took delight in poisoning friendless women, who had certainly done him no harm, and whose death could have been of no benefit to him. The case of Cream illustrates the necessity of caution in the exercise of the pardoning power. Cream had been sentenced in Illinois to imprisonment for life for murder by poisoning, but was pardoned, it appears, only to begin the practice of murder on a more general scale, a few months after obtaining his freedom, in London. It would seem that proper investigation by the Illinois authorities would have brought out some facts indicating the man's real character and the danger to society of setting him at large.

THE London Telegraph is printing a series of interviews with prominent English merchants, bankers and manufacturers on the probable effects of the adoption of the Democratic tariff policy. The unanimous opinion is that British manufactures and trade generally will be immensely benefited. A leading manufacturer of velvet and velveteens in Manchester declares that the proposed "relaxation of the American tariff will so stimulate industry that fifty mills will be erected at Oldham," and that "employment will be found for thousands of additional hands." Every mill which goes up in Oldham to make goods for the American market will either shut up a mill now supplying the goods in this country or it will prevent the establishment here of a new one to supply them. Every wise would set to work there making thousands for this market takes work away from a thousand in this country. Even the most modest intellect will readily grasp the truth of these two simple propositions.

THERE was a meeting of workingmen in San Francisco on Sunday for the purpose of organizing a new council of federated trades at which decidedly advanced opinions on the subjects of strikes and boycotts were expressed. Some of the delegates spoke in favor of abandoning strikes and boycotts as weapons of defense and offense and suggested that instead the workingmen resort to independent political action to obtain the relief they desired. It was stated that strikes had been found an inefficient weapon, having hurt the workingman as much as the employers, and that to receive recognition they must do like their fellow laborers in Australia and England, who have gone in for political agitation. The suggestion that the workingmen abandon strikes and boycotts to settle their grievances against employers is certainly one that deserves the serious consideration of workingmen. They have proved very expensive and generally ineffective means of bringing employers to terms and it is something that the workingmen are beginning to recognize this and desire something safer and surer. There is no doubt that workingmen could accomplish considerable if they would agree upon independent political action.

THE proposition to issue bonds for the construction of the courthouse additions was defeated by a majority of over 500. THE REPUBLICAN expected the proposition would be defeated and the only surprising thing is that the majority was not larger. There is no good reason for paying $150,000 more for improvements, the actual value of which is only $100,000. There was no talk of bonds when the matter of building the additions was decided upon and it is not easy to understand why such a proposition was ever submitted.

THE Los Angeles Express draws the incorrect conclusion that the eastern people like eastern grapes better than California grapes because a greater quantity of the former are consumed there. The cause of the great difference in consumption is the lower price of the home article and the rapidity with which it can be placed on the market. California grapes cost from three to four times as much in the eastern markets, and are bought only by the well-to-do, while the low price of the home product puts it within the reach of the workingman. When the Californian growers succeed in getting cheaper rates and quicker transportation, our grapes will be better able to compete with the eastern product.

BEFORE this city spends several thousand dollars in putting a bituminous covering over the basalt blocks with which the gutters are paved, there should be some assurance that the work will prove of some benefit. It is too much money to spend upon a mere experiment, and it should not be done until some disinterested and competent expert has decided that the streets will receive an equivalent benefit from the money which it is proposed to spend upon them. If the defective drainage of some of the streets can be remedied in this manner, the proposition has merit in it; if not, it is not very easy to see where the benefit will come in—to the streets.

COMMEND us to the political hypocrite for impudent assumption and downright foolery when it comes to advising the opposition. It will be observed that the partisan Republican press is loudest in its calls for an extra session to modify the tariff, and that it is the partisan press of that organization that is most vociferous in its demands for free trade—by a Democratic congress. Oh, ye scribes and pharisees and ye of unlimited nerve!—Oakland Times.

Now, as we understand it, says the Los Angeles Times, the Republican press is not "advising the opposition" by any manner of means; it is only asking the afore-said "opposition" to carry out its promises made to the country—likewise the rabid planks of its platform. God hates a coward, and the rest of us have something of the same feeling. We want the Democracy to stand right up to the rack and do business without backing and filling. Down with the robber tariff, as you said you would, and don't stand around making excuses for not doing it. That's all the Republicans want you to do.

THE COUNCIL.

Another Fire Engine to be Purchased.

A NEW POLICEMAN APPOINTED

Bids Received for Paving the Gutters—Other Miscellaneous Business.

The city council meeting last night was enlivened by the presence after a long absence of Trustee Church, district attorney-elect.

The clerk was ordered to advertise for a new fire engine.

Robert L. Rader was appointed a policeman to take charge of the police headquarters, and bids were received for paving the stone gutters with bitumen.

LIQUOR LICENSES.

Licenses were granted to the following persons to maintain saloons:

Patrick Foley and O. M. Murray of the Fountain saloon in the old Fiske building.

John Noon of the bowling alley on I street.

A. C. Serpa and A. J. Cordoza, a transfer of license.

PETITIONS FOR LICENSES.

William Black petitioned for a license to conduct a saloon at 1417 F street.

CITY MARSHAL'S REPORT.

The city marshal reported having collected $7901.60 from October 1st to November 1st.

GRADING FRESNO STREET.

Resolutions of intention to grade the whole of Fresno street and to pave the same with bitumen from I to K were finally passed.

THE ELECTRIC STREET RAILWAY.

An ordinance rescinding the franchise for the Fresno electric street railway was read for the first time.

THE KANGAROO SITE.

D. M. Seaton appeared on behalf of Messrs. Boyd & Fallon and asked that a license be granted them to conduct a saloon at 1110 F street. The license had been refused at a former meeting.

Mr. Cole remarked that the site of the proposed saloon was in Mr. Alford's ward and that as a matter of courtesy the board would allow Mr. Alford the privilege of stating whether he wanted the saloon there or not.

Mr. Alford said that he would not move to reconsider and the matter was dropped.

NEW HOSE RECEIVED.

Herrington reported that 1,000 feet of hose recently purchased had been received.

Alford said that Engineer Walton had informed him that it would cost nearly as much to put a new boiler in the Silsby engine as to buy a new engine. The Silsby would be likely to break down at any fire that would last ten or twelve hours.

A letter was read announcing that a new boiler of a cheap kind could be put in for $1200.

Mr. Walton said that an Amoskeag boiler would cost $1800. It would be necessary to ship the engine to San Francisco and the work of putting in the boiler would occupy two months, during which time the department would be an engine short.

Fahey thought it would be better to buy a new engine and keep the Silsby as a reserve. Her boilers were leaky.

Engineer Walton said that the council had already paid $400 for repairing the Silsby and it still leaked.

Fahey moved that the city clerk be ordered to advertise for bids for a new fire engine. It would take until next April before the engine could be got here.

The clerk was instructed to advertise for bids for furnishing a second or third class fire engine, the bids to be presented not later than the first Monday in January.

On motion of Fahey it was resolved to advertise for bids also in the San Francisco Weekly Sta , and the chief engineer was instructed to send a copy of the advertisement to each manufactory of fire engines in the United States.

FIRE ORDINANCES VIOLATED.

Engineer Walton announced that Chinese were violating the fire ordinances by rebuilding with wood on the site of the recent fire south of the gas works.

TAKEN OUT OF THE FIRE LIMITS.

G. Kohler presented a petition asking that blocks 74 and 59 be taken outside of the fire limits. The petition was signed by Thomas E. Hughes, R. E. Beckwith, M. R. Madary, R. B. Johnson, William Helm, Louis Einstein and others.

On motion of Mr. Church the petition was granted.

The city attorney was instructed to draft an ordinance in conformity therewith.

THE SEWER BONDS.

Owing to an informality in the advertisement calling for a special election for bonds to complete the sewer system, the ordinance was rescinded. The error had been made by the city attorney in the name of the official newspaper in which the ordinance had been advertised.

THE HORSE CREMATORIUM.

Mr. Alford was given two weeks' further time in which to report upon a crematory for dead animals.

Fahey was given until the next meeting to report upon the reservation park.

Cole reported that the Fresno Canal and Irrigation company had strengthened the embankments and that there would be no danger of overflow this winter.

BIDS FOR STREET WORK.

Bids for paving the gutterways with Santa Cruz bituminous rock in the paved portion of the city were received as follows:

Santa Cruz Rock Paving company $3950.

Pacific Paving company 15 cents per square foot.

The consideration of the bids was deferred until Wednesday evening.

STREET SPRINKLING.

On motion of Alford the street sprinkling contractor was authorized to keep four wagons at work at sprinkling until the rainy season sets in.

POLICE HEADQUARTERS.

City Marshal Morgan announced that he had been offered the use of a room in the Masonic building, on Tulare street, for police headquarters at $20 per month. He was given authority to accept the room and fit it up for a police headquarters.

RADER ELECTED POLICEMAN.

Alford moved to appoint R. L. Rader as an additional policeman to attend the headquarters. Mr. Rader was unanimous appointed.

Adjourned until tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock.

TO ANNUL CONVEYANCE.

Boss Maloney Sued by William Parker Lyon.

W. Parker Lyon, assignee of the estate of Molly Livingston, an insolvent debtor, has brought suit against Din Maloney, the Chinatown boss, to annul a conveyance.

The plaintiff alleges that on September 29th last Mollie Livingston filed a petition in the superior court asking that she be declared an insolvent debtor. She was adjudged to be such and the plaintiff was appointed assignee by the court. The plaintiff alleges further that on the 18th of May Mollie Livingston conspired with the defendant to make a transfer to him of all her real property without consideration and for the purpose of cheating and defrauding her creditors. The conspiracy was carried out and the transfer made. The plaintiff says there is no other property which can be used for the benefit of Mollie Livingston's creditors and asks that the said transfer be annulled. The realty is valued at $40,000.

DEWEY'S SECOND TRIAL.

Convicted of Burglary in the Second Degree.

The second trial of E. H. Dewey, charged with burglary was held in Judge Holmes' court yesterday. H. O. Tupper and E. S. Van Meter represented the prosecution and M. Farley the defendant.

The jury consisted of Jesse Lester, W. C. Colson, Hiram Dyer, P. B. Johnson, O. D. Berryhill, G. F. Abbott, James Edwards, John Evans, A. J. Shields, George B. Noble, T. J. Hammond, A. C. Joy.

Dewey was charged with having entered the house of J. M. Barkley at Caruthers and taking $40 therefrom. Dewey was in Barkley's employ and when Dewey left Barkley owed him a few dollars. He wanted to pay Dewey but had no change, so asked him to come again in a day or two. Dewey came and finding the Barkleys out in the field took advantage of their absence and appropriated $40, which he found in one of the rooms.

On his first trial Dewey stated he got the money he had when arrested from a friend who arrived in Caruthers on the train that day. As this statement was not disputed by any other evidence it probably had something to do with the failure of the jury to agree. Yesterday, however, the prosecution had the train dispatcher of the railroad company on the stand and he testified that no train had stopped at Caruthers on that day. The jury remained out only about half an hour, bringing in a verdict of guilty of burglary of the second degree.

SAVED BY JUMPING.

A Scaffold Fifty Feet High Falls From the Court House.

A brick mason's scaffold on the court house building collapsed shortly after the men went to work yesterday morning.

There were on the scaffold four brickmason, Major Will Scott, Fred Scott, Al Merrill and John Wilton, and a colored laborer named Grant Nelson.

Will Scott, the foreman, had examined the scaffold and pronounced it unsafe and was just leaving to inform the overseer of that fact when Nelson stepped upon it with a heavy load of mortar and at that instant that part of the structure on which the men were standing gave way.

With the first and only warning crack the men made a flying leap for the wall six feet away and succeeded in reaching it. This saved them from a fifty foot fall and probably a terrible death.

The supports of the scaffolding were of mountain pine and knotty and were not strong enough to support the weight.

FRESNO COLONY.

Some of the Second crop in Need of a Market.

Fresno colony now has two representatives in the Fresno business college—William W. Nelson and Peter Franklin Adelsbach. Mr. Nelson is taking the business course and Mr. Adelsbach is taking the short-hand course; he is already a graduate of the business course.

How comes it that C. B. Kemble received not a vote in his own precinct?

Some sort of society is badly needed here in Fresno colony. A literary society, a Good Templars' lodge or a Sunday school would be very welcome.

A certain person has taken great pains to cut the rope to our flag pole at the school house every time he gets a chance. The perpetrator should be caught and be severely punished. The rope has been cut enough times to show that, I am sorry to say, we are not all patriots.

Many tons of good second crop grapes are rotting on the vines round about here, all for the want of a market. There are many driers in successful operation here, but they cannot get away with the grapes. KEM.

A Wealthy Vagrant.

Kigwichi, a young Japanese, appeared before Recorder Laning yesterday and pleaded not guilty to the charge of vagrancy. He demanded a jury trial and his trial was set for this afternoon. On being informed that his bail was fixed at $100 he coolly drew five $20-pieces and laid them on the Recorder's desk with a smile, a flash of white teeth and "Tank you, sar."

An Awful Swallow.

Julius Dickey swallowed his false teeth while laughing yesterday at one of Lyon, the furniture man's advertisements in THE REPUBLICAN. He now wears one of Burke' porous plasters on his throat to draw the teeth up again.

Sperry's Best Family flour has led all others for forty years.

Thomas Yost is prepared to frame pictures in any style you may desire.

THE NEW BUILDING

BUILT BY THE FRESNO STREET IMPROVEMENT COMPANY.

A Model of Convenience and Elegance and an Ornament to Fresno.

When completed, the new building on the corner of I and Fresno streets, which is being erected by the Fresno Street Improvement company, will be one of the most commodious in the city. The finishing touches are being put on the brickwork and the interior will now get the attention of the workmen.

The new building is 150x100 feet and two stories in height. It contains nine store rooms, five facing on I street and four on Fresno. The average dimensions of these rooms is 18x70 feet. There is a basement the full length and breadth of the building, which may also be utilized for stores or storage.

The second story contains thirty-three rooms, most of them for offices and lodgings. E. R. Higgins has obtained a space of 60x31 feet for a photograph gallery, which will be one of the best appointed in the valley. It is being arranged in accordance with plans of his own.

The building is divided into four sections, each section having its own water, gas and sewerage system, and being practically independent of all the other sections. Each suite of rooms has its own meter for gas, water and electricity and will be handsomely finished.

In fact, the plan of arrangement follows closely that of the most modern office buildings, making it a marvel of convenience and comfort. It will be a worthy addition to Fresno's long list of handsome and substantial buildings.

The officers of the Fresno Street Improvement company are Jacob Vogel, president; W. J. Dickey, vice president; F. M. Chittenden, secretary, and O. J. Woodward, treasurer.

McLeod was accused of retaining a ten dollar piece given him in mistake for a quarter of a dollar by an expressman who collected a quarter from him for carrying his trunk to a hotel.

A STUNNER.

The Poor Man's Friend Price List.

The price list published in the Poor Man's Friend column in today's REPUBLICAN will certainly create a sensation among Fresno county buyers. The Poor Man's Friend stores are determined to close out everything before the holidays, so as not to have a January clearance sale. So they are offering the bargains right now. The prices quoted, considering the fine quality of the goods in their stock, are certainly marvelously low.

Yosemite Barber Shop.

The new barber shop on I street next to Dagan's is a perfect gem in its way. It is about the neatest, cleanest and prettiest tonsorial parlors one would care to visit. The painting is particularly creditable and was done by Leplat, Herman Kuendel, the proprietor of the Yosemite Barber Shop, is well and favorably known. His superior Family Hair Tonic has a wide reputation as the best hair restorative in the market.

At the Yosemite you can get a 25-cent shave for 15 cents.

Ladies if you want to save your shoes from the alkali dust use only Watson's Peerless Polish. Contains no acid, alcohol or ammonia. Will preserve your shoes.

LUKE SHELLY.

He Ratified Cleveland's Election Too Boisterously.

Luke Shelly marched in the Democratic ratification parade last Saturday night.

Ratification had a strange effect upon Mr. Shelly. Whether too much joy mounted to his brain or whether the tooting of the tin horns maddened him cannot be learned, but whatever was the matter Mr. Shelly attempted to boss the parade.

He first attacked a detachment of mounted cavalry, and seized two horses by the bridle, causing them to rear and plunge wildly, and at the great risk of unseating their riders.

When remonstrated with he struck a gentleman named Riggins with a torch, and Mr. Riggins promptly knocked him down.

Policeman Smith was obliged to escort Mr. Shelly to the county jail, followed by a large crowd. The prisoner's face was covered with blood, and his clothes were disarranged, so much so that he presented the appearance of a man who had visited Donnybrook Fair, not wisely, but too well.

Mr. Shelly's case will be considered today. He was charged with disturbing the peace.

THE PUBLIC LIBRARY.

TRUSTEES PREPARING FOR A BENEFIT ENTERTAINMENT.

It Will Be Unusually Attractive, and Should be Liberally Patronized.

The trustees of the proposed public library are bestirring themselves and the library will soon be such not only in name, but in fact.

Some months ago the trustees solicited contributions from the citizens and collected about $100; contributions of books were also promised. The money is in bank and will be used to furnish the rooms. Of course, this sum will be insufficient for that purpose, and to raise the remainder of the sum needed the trustees have decided to give a dramatic entertainment early in December. The entertainment will be under the management of the well known elocutionist, Miss Jenne Long. It will no doubt be something exceptionally good and should be well patronized.

Rooms for the library are being specially prepared in the new building corner of I and Fresno streets. The appropriation made by the trustees will be used to buy books and pay rent and a librarian, and the money obtained from other sources to furnish the rooms. The trustees of the library are Judge M. K. Harris, Professor T. L. Heaton, C. Chisholm, Mrs. J. R. White and Mrs. E. C. Phillips.

MANUFACTURING ICE.

A SIMPLE EXPLANATION OF HOW ARTIFICIAL ICE IS MADE.

The Principle of Ammonia Freezing Machines Very Clearly Set Forth—The Factor That Heat Is in Producing Cold. The Part That Pressure Plays.

The principle on which the manufacture of ice is based is exemplified in the relation of heat into the conversion of water into gas steam. A certain amount of heat is required for the conversion of any fluid into a gas. This heat becomes, as we say, latent—that is, is being employed for the time in producing violent undulations of the gas molecules.

Whenever a liquid is converted into a gas, heat must come from somewhere. In the making of steam it comes from the fire; in the ordinary evaporation of the water out of doors it comes from the sun. When there is no special heating arrangement, but the conditions are favorable for the gaseous change in the fluid, heat will be taken up from surrounding substances if they have any.

If you dip your hand in water and then wave it through the air the water will evaporate—that is, be converted into gas—and you will appreciate by the cool sensation that heat has been abstracted from your hand. If you use instead of water some fluid which more readily passes into the gaseous state, such as alcohol or ether, the sensation of coolness will be more immediate and intense.

Now this is the principle which is applied in the manufacture of ice. Some fluid which evaporates readily is forced to do so under such conditions that the heat which it must have and render latent in its vapor will be extracted from a limited quantity of water, and this process being made continuous, so much heat will finally be abstracted from the water that its molecules can no longer stay mobile, but fly together into crystals—the water freezes.

The evaporating fluid used in practice may be sulphuric ether or sulphurous acid or ammonia. The last is perhaps nowadays most often used. These fluids are kept in strong, close pipes and receivers, and can under no conditions come into contact with the water to be frozen.

Suppose we consider the ammonia freezing machines very briefly only, for into the details of the process it is not necessary for us here to enter.

But in order to understand this operation one more physical principle must be stated, which is that the degree of pressure to which a substance is exposed has a great influence upon the temperature at which it passes from the fluid to the gaseous condition. Water at the ordinary altitudes boils—that is, is converted into vapor—at 100 degs. centigrade (212degs. Fahrenheit). But on a high mountain it will boil at a lower temperature than this, because the atmospheric pressure is less there.

On the other hand, if you put a gas into a receiver, and expose it to a sufficiently heavy pressure by a powerful pump or in some other way, it will in most cases become a fluid forthwith, and the heat which had been latent in it will be given out. Now this in a general way is what is done to the ammonia in getting it ready to freeze the water. Pure liquid ammonia boils—that is, passes from the liquid into the gaseous state—at a temperature about 240 degs. Fahrenheit lower than water does. Hence ammonia is a substance which at ordinary temperature is a gas. That which we buy at the drug stores as ammonia is simply a solution of the gas in water, and from this, as every one knows, it is readily given off. It is volatile, that is, it tends under ordinary conditions to get into the gaseous form.

Now in ice factories powerful engines are used to force the ammonia gas by pressure into the liquid state, and the heat which is thus set free is carried off by cool water pouring over the coils of stout iron pipe in which it is confined. This fluid ammonia—kept fluid by the pressure to which it is subjected, a pressure varying from 125 to 175 pounds to the square inch—is carried in pipes to coils in the freezing tanks. These tanks are simply great vats filled with brine and covered over with a floor. Into this brine, cans filled with the water to be frozen are placed and carefully covered. These cans are usually between three and four feet deep, about one foot thick and nearly two feet wide. Coils of pipe communicating with the ammonia pipes are immersed in the brine, which is kept in motion by paddle wheels moved by machinery.

The brine acts as a carrier of the heat from the water in its tight metallic cans to the ammonia pipes. Brine is used because it does not as readily freeze as water does and acts as a good conductor or distributor of the heat.

Now, when all is ready, the fluid ammonia under its great pressure is allowed to escape into the coils of pipe which pass about in the brine, and in which the pressure is so much less that the ammonia as it rushes in becomes at once a gas. But to do this it must have heat. It must have it. From the walls of the pipes into which it rushes it seizes it first. These take it from the brine which bathes them until its temperature goes down, down, and it begins to draw through their iron walls upon the heat stock of the water in the cans. And so the mimic but relentless warfare goes on. The ammonia vapor is constantly pumped away from the cold pipes in which it had expanded to be used over again, while fresh liquid ammonia is as constantly forced in from behind.

Some hours pass, and the heat stock in the water is growing scantier and scantier. It can stand it in this way but little longer; it is down well nigh to zero centigrade, and the wild, insatiable vapor raging for heat in the pipes not far off is still sucking it away. The only thing which can be done now to furnish more is for the water to give up its latent heat, and that is to sign its own death warrant as water, for, if one may use such a turn of phrase, without its latent heat water is ice.

The ice layers on all sides slowly thicken, and at last, in about sixty hours, all is solid. The watchful attendant raises with a crane the great beautiful ice block, still in its galvanized iron can, out of its cold bath, and trundles it off to make way for another molecular battle and another victory.—T. Mitchell Prudden in Harper's.

In a church at Capua there is a large painting of the annunciation of the Virgin Mary, in which she is represented in an armchair upholstered with rich crimson velvet ornamented with gold flowers. Near here are seen a cat and a parrot and on a table a silver coffeepot and a cup are displayed.—Detroit Free Press.

For Bronchitis

"I never realized the good of a medicine so much as I have in the last few months, during which time I have suffered intensely from pneumonia, followed by bronchitis. After trying various remedies without benefit, I began the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and the effect has been marvelous, a single dose relieving me of choking, and securing a good night's rest."—T. A. Higginbotham, Gen. Store, Long Mountain, Va.

La Grippe

"Last Spring I was taken down with la grippe. At times I was completely prostrated, and so difficult was my breathing that my breath seemed as if confined in an iron cage. I procured a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and no sooner had I begun taking it than relief followed. I could not believe that the effect would be so rapid."—W. H. Williams, Cook City, S. Dak.

Lung Trouble

"For more than twenty-five years, I was a sufferer from lung trouble, attended with coughing so severe at times as to cause hemorrhage, the paroxysms frequently lasting three or four hours. I was induced to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and after taking four bottles, was thoroughly cured. I can confidently recommend this medicine."—Franz Hofmann, Clay Centre, Kans.
